For Breakfast

Fruit; light fluffy codfish balls, crisp and brown; toast and coffeethat's a breakfast fit for a king. The most substantial part of it, the codfish balls, is the easiest and quickest to prepare, and infinitely less expensive than eggs or meat.

If you are one of the few who have never used Beardsley's Shredded Codfish you have a treat in store for you. It is free from bones. Ready for the table in ten minutes. A fifteen cent package is ample for five people.

Ask your grocer today for Beardsley's Shredded Codfish. Look for the red band on the box. Don't forget to get from him, too, a copy of "The Daily Question", a recipe book written by Janet McKenzie Hill, one of America's foremost cooks.
